

Latin

Year 8

Wednesday 18th January 2023

Today

Wednesday 18th January 2023

- LO: to learn prepositions in Latin

PREPOSITIONS

Prepositions are words placed in front of nouns. They create phrases which provide more detail about the action happening in a sentence. They can tell you:

PREPOSITIONS

Prepositions are words placed in front of nouns. They create phrases which provide more detail about the action happening in a sentence. They can tell you:

PREPOSITIONS

Prepositions are words placed in front of nouns. They create phrases which provide more detail about the action happening in a sentence. They can tell you:

- location

e.g. in, on

PREPOSITIONS

Prepositions are words placed in front of nouns. They create phrases which provide more detail about the action happening in a sentence. They can tell you:

- location
e.g. in, on
- movement
e.g. to, from, into, out of

PREPOSITIONS

Prepositions are words placed in front of nouns. They create phrases which provide more detail about the action happening in a sentence. They can tell you:

- location
e.g. in, on
- movement
e.g. to, from, into, out of
- a state or circumstance
e.g. with, without

PREPOSITIONS

ad

to, towards

circum

around

contra

against

in

into

per

through, along

PREPOSITIONS (1): WITH THE ACCUSATIVE

All Latin prepositions require the noun to be in a particular case. Many prepositions take a noun in the accusative case.

PREPOSITIONS (1): WITH THE ACCUSATIVE

All Latin prepositions require the noun to be in a particular case. Many prepositions take a noun in the accusative case.

e.g.            servi ad insulam navigant.
                    The slaves sail to the island.

Which of these words in English is the preposition?

Which of these words in Latin is the preposition?

Which of these words is in the accusative case?

PREPOSITIONS (1): WITH THE ACCUSATIVE

All Latin prepositions require the noun to be in a particular case. Many prepositions take a noun in the accusative case.

e.g. servi ad insulam navigant.

The slaves sail to the island.

Which of these words in English is the preposition?

Which of these words in Latin is the preposition?

puella per villam ambulat.

The girl walks through the house.

Which of these words is in the accusative case?

Highlight the preposition in one colour

Highlight the accusative noun in another colour

Translate into English!

Exercise 1.24

Translate into English:

1. per hortos ambulamus.
2. servi contra dominos semper pugnant.
3. amicus epistulam in villam portat.
4. ad insulas nunc navigamus.
5. nuntii circum insulam navigant.

Highlight the preposition in one colour

Highlight the accusative noun in another colour

Translate into English!

Exercise 1.25

Translate into Latin:

1. The slave-women carry the money towards the house.
2. The girl is walking into the garden.
3. We do not fight against the gods.
4. I always sail around the islands.
5. The messenger and the master walk through the house.

A blue circular logo with the white text "S&C" inside.

S&C

Extension Task

Exercise 1.26

Translate into English. Unless a new subject is introduced, assume that the subject of the sentence is the same as the previous one:

1. ancillae sumus. semper laboramus. cibum paramus et epistulas portamus. dominum non amamus.
2. nuntius ad insulam navigat. epistulam portat. in villam ambulat. nuntium saluto. servos voco. servi cibum parant.
3. dominus servum non amat. servus contra dominum semper pugnat. dominus servum vocat. servus in villam ambulat. dominus servum necat.

Home learning

CHAPTER ONE VOCABULARY

for a quiz next Tuesday (24th January)